

Market Data on Hemp Food and CBD – Key Markets and Indicators for a Growing Industry

HempConsult is active in observing the hemp market and in collecting and exchanging data with its network partners worldwide. The company has conducted and set up several studies on subjects like “THC in Food” or “Safety and Side Effects on CBD” and has also drawn up position papers on various issues.

In his presentation, Daniel Kruse gives an overview on the work of HempConsult and presents current developments, trends, market observations and data on hemp food and CBD.