

Phillip Millar Abstract

Phillip Millar is a pioneer in Canada for Medical Cannabis. Phillip is at the forefront of a leading industry by being the CEO for Medical Marijuana Consulting, owning a Licensed Producer facility, and being the President for Canadian Operations for Golden Leaf Holdings. Phillip was also a former Combat Officer who served for Canada for over a decade. Later in life, Phillip also became a lawyer, former prosecutor, and defence attorney. Phillip brings a refreshing approach to the Marijuana industry as he not only has the first-hand experience from growing to selling marijuana but also has extensive knowledge of policies and laws both domestically and internationally. Throughout his experiences, Phillip has personally witnessed many of the mistakes and lessons learned when introducing medical marijuana to the general masses. Phillip is happy to share his learnings with other members of the marijuana community within other jurisdictions.
